Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 22-24, 29-31 and 36-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kenny.

Kenny shows an interactive electronic shopping system (serving web page, receiving orders) and method. List can be provided by the means for generating and displaying a list of the present invention is a list of products previously ordered by the shopper and the date (date of ordering) each listed product was last ordered by the shopper. (providing this list inherently shows storing information based on customer identification) This type of list can also indicate the frequency with which each listed product has been ordered or is to be ordered by the shopper. One implementation of this is to program the display means 12 so that actual ordering or selecting of products is automatically tracked and a frequency computation made (analyzing frequency), such as either on the basis of the time since last ordering the same product or an average time based on a historical record of the orders for the same product. These lists are generated and displayed by suitable programming means within the display means 12 or as obtained from the storage means 10. (column 6, lines 19-33)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 25, 32, and 39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kenny.

Kenny, as applied above, shows all of the limitations of the claims except for specifying saving the shipping address.

The examiner takes Official Notice that it is well known in the art to save the previous shipping address in a customer profile in order to facilitate reordering.

Based on the discussion above, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to modify the Kenny customer profile to incorporate the saving of the previous shipping address in a customer profile in order to facilitate reordering.

5. Claims 26-27, 33-34, and 40-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kenny in view of www.drugstore.com.

Art Unit: 3627

Kenny, as applied above, shows all of the limitations of the claims except for specifying details, such as prescriptions and insurance, of online drug purchasing.

www.drugstore.com teaches the incorporation of a Pharmacy department of an online store, which includes means for handling prescriptions and insurance, in order to help the customer legally obtain the drugs.

Based on the discussion above, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to modify the Kenny store to incorporate the pharmacy department of www.drugstore.com, including means for handling prescriptions and insurance, in order to help the customer legally obtain the drugs.

6. Claims 28, 35, and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kenny in view of Anderson.

Kenny, as applied above, shows all of the limitations of the claims except for specifying suggesting related products.

Anderson teaches a personal intercommunication purchase and fulfillment system. Column 2, lines 6-15, teaches "The present system can perform complementary searches to suggest related products to the consumer based on a buyer's previous purchases. Complementary searches afford buyers greater flexibility and depth of knowledge when purchasing related products. When combined with the economies of scale in large networks, buyers have access to remote selections not normally available. This increases the number of purchases made by customers, as well as incremental revenue gains.”

Based on the teaching of Anderson, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to modify the Kenny system to incorporate the method of suggesting related products in order to increase the number of purchases made by customers, as well as incremental revenue gains.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 22-42 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Lion shows a system of interest.

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
